

Free Living Series For Generations of Family Safety

Creating a safe bath environment is equally important for every member of your family, especially when the majority of accidents in the home occur in the bathroom. Your family's safety is always a priority and with the Mirolin Free Living Series you don't have to compromise safety in the bathroom.

The Free Living Series offers you a solution with a safety-first approach that will not only benefit you and your family at different stages of your lives, but also increase accessibility and comfort for family members and guests of all ages and abilities.

Whether you have young children just starting to shower on their own, a teenager with a sports injury, an elderly family member or just want the convenience of getting in and out of the bath or shower with ease; the Free Living Series gives you that freedom.
